balances, except in the item of "streets and alleys." For this purpose I would recom-mend that an appropriation be made for $100, 000 in addition to the balance brought forward. I make this recommendation for the reason that the Board of Public Works are prohibited from making contracts for work unless the money to pay for the work has been appropriated by the Council. It is reasonable to suppose that there will be about the same amount of contracts outstanding at the end of the fiscal year as there was at its beginning. So $100,000 will be sufficient to pay for all the contracts completed during the fiscal year. Very respectfully yours, WILLIAM WESLEY WOOLLEN.

To the Hou. Thomas L. Sullivan, Mayor City of Indianapolis. When the clerk began reading the "un-expended balances" Mr. Pearson interrupted him to ask where the money was. In one part of the Controller's statement he had shown but about $12,000 in the treasury, and here he showed unexpended balances of over $100,000. Where was the money? Nobody knew where it was, and "Colonel Bill" Hicklin, who was in the chair, promptly declared Mr. Pearson out of order and told the clerk to continue the reading. Mr. Pearson objected to the rapid reading of the estimates. They might as well stay at home, he said, tor they could catch none of the figures. The clerk rushed on through, however, and at the end the estimates were at once referred to the ways and means committee. A second communication from the Controller was read, in which he promised to have his annual report up to Sept. 1

After all the various partisan schemes had been rushed through the Council, Sim Coy moved that a special meeting be called for to-night.

"What for?" asked Mr. Pearson. "To transact such business as may come before the Council," replied Coy curtly. "Now look here," retorted Mr. Pearson. I came here to-night and I voted for your appropriation for street-cleaning because it was represented to me that the money was needed at once. If this meeting is to rush through the whole appropriation ordinance I must protest. The finance committo look into a matter of such vast impor-

"All right, Monday goes!" replied Hickin. Therefore the Democrats will not appear to-night and there will be no meeting.

FACTS FOR FIRST WARDERS

Mr. Herod Addresses a Large Meeting on the Issues of the Campaign.

Democratic Shortcomings Shown Up in Pointed Fashion-Extravagance of the Administration-Republican Nominations.

About 250 persons gathered at 546 Clifford avenue last evening to listen to Hon. W. W. Herod, the Republican candidate for Mayor. It was an out-goor meeting, and an earnest, sympathetic audience composed almost entirely of working people. The speech was listened to with the closest of attention. Thirty-five or forty of those present were workingmen who have heretofore voted the Democratic ticket, but now express their desire for a change, and will vote for Mr. Herod as the most direct means of bringing about the necessary reform. Squire Alford presided, and presented the speaker to the audience. A presentation seemed hardly necessary as, judging from the greeting he received, everybody recognized him as an old acquaintance, or, at least, as one whom it might not be difficult to become acquainted with Mr. Herod's speech, as upon other occasions, was addressed to men who owned homes or were trying to be home-owners through building and loan associations. He pointed out the arrogance of the Board of Public Works and their autocratic style in rejecting petitions and remonstrances of the people, whose servants they should be. for it was the money of the tax-payers, and all tax-payers that paid them. Mr. Herod expressed himself in favor of the charter and of improvements, and said: "I want this city to be a place to which the humblest man and woman, white or colored, will be proud to point and call it home. If I am elected Mayor there shall be nothing that I can do that will be left undone to help on the chariot of progress. I am in favor of all public improvements not alone of streets and viaducts, but parks, fountains and squares-everything that goes to build up our city and make it an abiding place for those who seek a home. But there are limitations to improvements. A man earning only $1.50 a day cannot build a palace, dress his family in silk and satin, live in luxury and drive an elegant carriage, no matter how much he may desire to do so. He cannot pay for it. Neither can those who have little homes and live in property worth $25 or $30 a foot front afford to pay for asphalt and brick streets. Yet that is what this board says you must have, or have nothing, and an asphalt or brick pavement costs for sixteen feet of street at the rate of $5.50 a foot front. This outside property cannot pay such a price for improvements. Where it can be afforded and a majority of the people want it let them have it, but in many places a graveled street is as expensive an improvement as the property will stand and gravel streets are good streets where they are duplicate of 1890. The account will stand thus:

properly kept up." Mr. Herod paid special attention to Clif-ford avenue, to which the attention of the Board of Public Works had been called long since. "Look at Clifford avenue," said he. "I came along in the dark tonight and it is so full of dangerous holes that I would be afraid to travel upon it unless I had a bull's-eye lantern to throw a light in front of me. There is not a dollar spent on Clifford avenue in the way of repair or improvement, and you have a roadway that compared to it an oldfashioned corduroy road would be as smooth as a marble floor." He also called attention to the promises made regarding the dangerous and expensive overflows that swamp the territory about the Atlas works, and the fact that nothing whatever had been done for the protection of proper-ty-holders in that section. He also paid his respects to Leon Bailey and Dr. Met-calf, each of whom held two offices, to Deputy Controller Perrott, who is paid a salary by the tax-payers, and yet puts into his own pocket fees amounting to $600 for notarial services for those whose servant he is. Mr. Herod held that if such fee was taken at all it should go into the city treasury, and not into a private pocket. Of Controller Woollen he said that gentleman, who still held on to his clearing-house position, received, all told, about $5,000, and that $1,000 of that salary had been voted to him in defiance of the express law on the subject. The speech was a strong one, and set the tax-payers to thinking. Despo and Funk Nominated. The Republicans of the Ninth ward held a primary last evening at ward headquarters, corner of Reed and English avenue. P. C. Colonel Walker Disposes of Assessor Wolf Forcibly and Pointedly.

Col. I. N. Walker, of the State Tax Commission, is decidedly of the opinion that Indianapolis has had a costly experience in electing to the office of township assessor a man who is incompetent to fill the position. "The absurdity of his attempt to reflect on me," said the Colonel to a Journal reporter last evening, "is apparent from the statement credited to him in the News; namely, that I told him he ought to watch the Commercial Club committee, so that it would not assess property too low. Is it likely that I would go to the Commercial Club and have that organization appoint a committee to assist the assessor, and then urge the latter to watch that committee? I gave Mr. Wolf general instructions to see that the law was honestly enforced, but a little brief authority appears to have turned his head. I had no complaint to make of the Commercial Club committee's appraisements, which were fair throughout and which Wolf raised from 10 to 20 per cent. I was eight years in the county auditor's office here, and during that time two appraisements were made. It is unnecessary for me to say that I feel that I know considerably more about these matters than the present township assessor, who had no qualifications whatever to recommend him for that important position, and; whose selection the people of this city have cause to regret."

Sub-Treasury Scheme Opponents. St. Louis, Sept. 11.—Mr. U. S. Hall, expresident of the Missouri Farmers' Alliance, is in the city perfecting arrangements for holding the national anti-subtreasury and anti-third party convention which will meet here Tuesday, Sept. 15. In reference to this meeting Mr. Hall said: "As far as I am informed, the approaching convention will not only be a grand success, but the largest representative gathering of farmers ever held in this country. The delegates who will be at the meeting will be real farmers, with every interest in common, and no one will be admitted to a seat as a delegate who is not opposed to the sub-treas-ury and land-loan schemes and other like measures of class legislation." Mr. Hall said further that he was determined to keep up the fight until the farmers of this country have been fully advised as to the folly of all such legislation. Warning to Whisky-Drinking Joneses. Sr. Louis, Sept. 11.-Two young men, Ashley Jones and Frank Beard, got into a quarrel at a saloon this morning over the payment of some whisky. Jones applied

THE MYSTERY IS UNSOLVED

Sullivan Administration Will Not Explain Its Great Feat of Figure Juggling.

Another Pay-Roll Smothered Yesterday-Big Appropriation Whooped Through the Council-Miscellaneous City Affairs.

The Sullivan administration has as yet youchsafed no explanation of the mystery hanging about the street commissioner's pay-rolls fund. It has not deigned to tell how $4,074.24 was paid out of $3,384.97 and $827.65 still left in the fund. On the contrary, further mystery was thrown around the subject yesterday. The street commissioner's pay-roll, which is always approved by the Board of Public Works in open meeting, every Friday, was vesterday approved in secret session, with the Mayor present. No record was made of it in the minutes of the meeting, and the clerk of the board flatly refused to tell the Journal or any other reporter the size of it. The deputy controller and street commissioner's clerk again yesterday refused the Journal reporter access to any figures or records whatever. There is but one conclusion to be drawn from all this secresy. Last night Clerk Parker, of the board, and Deputy Perrott were locked in the board's office. They had before them a couple of books, one of which appeared to contain stubs of warrants, and the other could not "What were you doing in there?" was asked of Clerk Parker, when he emerged. "Making out duplicate warrants and a new set of stubs?" The clerk blushed to the roots of his hair, but vouchsafed no reply. Of course, there could be no suspicion that this immaculate administration would do such a thing as that, but the reporter just put the ques-tion to note the effect. Clerk Parker did, however, along about the first of August go all through his books and change certain payments from the street commissioner's pay-rolls fund to the sewer fund, and if estioned under oath he would not deny

The mystery of that fund will probably never be solved, for last night the Council whooped through a special appropriation of $44,384.01 for the street commissioner's pay-rolls and accounts. Mr. Rassmann introduced the ordinance and moved that it be referred to the committee on ways and means. This was done and he at once handed up a written report recommending its passage. "I object to the passage of this measure until I know what it is." said

"We'll meet to-morrow night and pass it," yelled Sim Coy, and all the Democratic small fry echoed the cry. "Don't be so fast," said Mr. Myers. You may be able to pass it to-night. I simply want to know if any of this is to go to pay back pay-rolls." Rassmann said it was not "How do you know?" asked Mr. Myers. "The official report of the fund on Aug. 1 showed something over $3,000 in it, while the pay-rolls since then have amounted to over $4,000, How do you figure it out?" "Go in and look at the controller's books," said Rassmann. If Myers could see the controller's books it would be more than any other Republican has done. Under the threat of having the thing passed to-night, anyhow, before time could be had for any investigation. he let the matter go and made no further objection. The ordinance was adopted under suspension of the rules and the administration can now till up the fund and carry out Taggart's celebrated scheme of putting all the dissatisfied Democrats who can be thus bribed on Harrold's pay-roll and giving the city a general cleaning.

Greer-Street Contract Awarded. Mr. John Howard yesterday presented to the Board of Public Works the engineer's report upon the bids for asphalting Greer street. The Warren-Scharff company had bid $4.87 per front foot, with 40 cents per foot rebate for curbing that could be reset. while the Western company had bid $4.75 per foot, with a rebate of 12 cents per foot for good curb. Upon the whole cost of the work the Warren-Scharff company's bid amounted to $5,332.67, or $17.80 cheaper than the Western, which amounted to $5,349.75. The board was in something of a quandary. as the Warren-Scharff was much lower for the people on the east side of the street. where the curb is good, but higher for those on the west side, where it is bad. After getting an opinion on the subject from Mr. Bailey the board decided to award the contract to the Warren-Scharff com-

Clerk Parker's Costly Mistake. The Board of Public Works having been knocked out in court in regard to the Alvord-street improvement, on account of faults in its method of advertising, yesterday decided to readvertise for bids. As this same illegal procedure has been followed in all improvement advertisements. there is not a little fright among the contractors. Contractor Roney, on this account, yesterday asked to be relieved of his contract to build the extension of the Pennsylvania-street sewer, upon which he has not yet begun work. As there was nothing else to do, the board granted his request and will have to readvertise and relet the contract.

Council Miscellany. Mr. Cooper last night introduced a resolution directing the railroad committee to plead with President Frenzel to run his Thirteenth-street cars to Crown Hill on Sundays. After an exhibition of buffoonery by "Col. Bill" Hicklin in the chair. it was passed. Mr. Gasper introduced an ordinance raising the tax on the itinerant "bankrupt sale" and "fire sale" merchants from $50 to $100 per day in the interest of home merchants. On motion of Markey, seconded by Oisen and passed by Democratic votes, it was smothered by being referred to the committee on ordinances.

Plenty of Complaints. 'Squire Feibleman entered a complaint yesterday, upon the filthy condition of Market street in front of the synagogue. The complaint was referred to the able Pat Harrold. Councilman Cooper dropped in and laid down a wad of complaints about streets in his ward. The board promised to have them fixed up when it gets an appropriation. Harrold himself filed a complaint about the dangerous condition of the bridge over Pleasant run on the Madison road, which was referred. A petition was filed for the graveling of Caroline street, from Hill avenue to Baltimore

Ordered 218 Vapor Lights. The Board of Public Works held another secret session yesterday morning to finally settle the vapor light question. As a result it decided against tallow-dips and ordered the Sun Vapor-light Company to put in 218 lamps, distributed as follows: First ward, 27: Third, 4; Fourth, 11; Fifth, 23; Eighth, 33; Ninth, 22; Eleventh, 11; Twelfth, 12; Thirteenth, 9; Fourteenth, 42; Fifteenth, 31. If the board can get a satisfactory proposition from the Indianapolis Gas Company about the cost of putting in posts it will put in sixty-six gas lights, most of them in the Third and Eighth wards. Declaratory Resolutions Adopted. Final action was taken yesterday upon the resolutions to gravel Tenth street from Columbia avenue to Greenwood avenue: to gravel Gillard avenue and sidewalks from Washington to Michigan street. The following declaratory resolutions were adopted: To gravel the first alley west of Rural street from Pruitt street to Lawrence; to be vider the first alley west of East street from Coburn to Morris, and to gravel Catharine street from Boyd to Law-

Ballonist Drowned in the Hadson. NEW YORK, Sept. 11 .- A man who had given his name as George White, of Chicago, was drowned in the Hudson river late Wednesday afternoon after making aballoon ascension from the pleasure grounds known as Eldorado, on the Palisades opposite West Forty-second street. The balloon rose rapidly until it was almost out of sight, the man meanwhile drawing himself up on the bar and sitting upon it. Suddenly the balloon began to descend very quickly when directly over the Hudson river. White, slipping off the bar, hung to it by his hands until the balloon struck the water and collapsed with him underneath. Several boats immediately went to the spot, but there was no trace of White, and his body has not yet been recovered although the river was dragged for a long time.

Sr. Louis, Sept. 11.—The most important matter that has come before the German Methodist Episcopal Conference, at which representatives from the States of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri are present, now in session here, was determined at this morning's meeting.
